GRIZZLY CARAVAN WILL TOUR FOR MONTANA FOR UM ATHLETICS

MISSOULA--The Grizzly Caravan will launch its road tour with a stop in Bozeman Monday (May 22) and will continue to 11 other Montana cities and Spokane to expand interest in University of Montana athletics.

UM Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Jack Swarthout said he and his staff will accompany the Caravan, which will also comprise University administration representatives, Century Club representatives and Alumni Executive Director Hugh Edwards.

Swarthout said an air of optimism about the future prevails in the Grizzly lair-- "the Grizzlies are coming out of hibernation."

Edwards, who has organized the Caravan with the assistance of University alumni in the 12 Montana cities, said the movie of the intersquad game played May 6 would be shown at the Grizzly meetings.

Coach Swarthout will explain the new UM athletic program and discuss its future at all except the Bozeman meetings. Wally Brown, line coach, will take over for Swarthout in Bozeman.

In addition to Edwards, Swarthout and Brown, Jack Elway, Pinky Erickson, Ron Nord, Bob Cope and Harley Lewis of the Grizzly coaching staff will be present at all the meetings.

Century Club and Grizzly Club memberships will be available at each of the meetings, Edwards said.

The schedule, including locations and persons involved, are--
